

The Audiologist will give you batteries for your hearing aid and a brown book.

You will need this to collect batteries from the reception desk or your local health centre.

The appointment will take about 60 minutes. You can have a break at any time.

What do I have to do?

The Audiologist will greet you and take you into one of the test rooms.

The Audiologist may set up your hearing aid while you are wearing it. You will need to sit still and keep quiet.

Someone will look in your ears first to check they are clear.

The Audiologist will let you listen to the hearing aid.

Your new mould will be put in your ear to check that it is a good fit.

You must say if the hearing aid is too loud or too quiet. The Audiologist can adjust it to make sure you are happy.

The Audiologist will set up your hearing aid on the computer to help you hear well.

The Audiologist will show you how to use the hearing aid and how to look after it.
