

The Audiologist will record the quietest levels that you can hear the different beeps.

The test will take about 30 minutes to an hour to finish. You can have a rest at any time if you need to.

What do I have to do?

The Audiologist will greet you and take you into one of the test rooms.

Someone will look in your ears first to check they are clear.

Sometimes the Audiologist may instead use a hand-held sound machine to make noises.

You may put on some headphones and a headband.

You may be asked to listen to different beep sounds and respond by pressing the button every time you hear a beep or...

... you may be asked to respond in some way when you hear the sounds, such as putting a brick in a box.

You will need to listen very carefully as some of the beeps will be very quiet!

You may hear some strange noises.
