DPIA title:	Attend Anywhere
Summary:	Attend Anywhere is a video consultation software being advocated by NHS England and currently in place in NHS Scotland. It allows patients to join a virtual waiting room (each patient in a private "room", ensuring privacy) before a clinician connects with them. The clinician and patient can then have a video consultation, discussing the patient's care, and avoiding the journey to the hospital for the patient. Information is not retained by the console when the patient and clinician disconnect. The use of Attend Anywhere aims to reduce the amount of patients that attend the hospital, providing a more flexible service to them.
